

THE CONSTANTLY MOVING HAPPINESS MACHINE:

An anthropological, artistic and personal perspective on capitalist economics

Join Milton Keynes based artist Anna Berry and Jason Hickel, author of 'The Divide' for a discussion hosted by Kevin McConway, Emeritus Professor of Applied Statistics at the Open University.

Thursday, 20 September 2018
8-10pm at Milton Keynes Central Library

Explore the notion of 'degrowth' and how neoliberalism is enforced by global institutions; the beginnings of consumer capitalism as we know it and probe the nature of our role as consumers.

Tickets £5 in advance (free with concession for the unwaged) online at tinyurl.com/y93ctw6g or from the Enquiry Desk, First Floor, Central Library MK9 3HL
